Aim of the North Dundas Community Co-op:

Linking members of the community with local food producers and artisans, to provide healthy choices and showcase talent.

Life time Membership $50.00 (non-refundable)

All sales are either cash or cheque.

The essential business of the cooperative is to provide a marketplace where willing buyers and sellers who are members of the cooperative can meet. Never does the cooperative ever have title to any of the products. The products that go through our distribution system are owned either by the producer, or by the customer who purchases "title" to the product from the producer.
